

Virginia Builds Statewide ID Management Platform

The commonwealth is using technology deployed from Medicaid reform to build the platform.

BY STEVE TOWNS (HTTP://WWW.GOVTECH.COM/AUTHORS/98564054.HTML) / MAY 1, 2013

The new identity management system being built in the commonwealth of Virginia takes technology deployed for Medicaid reform, and will allow for the verification of citizens' identities across agencies in a way they couldn't verify identities before.

This, says CIO Sam Nixon, will not only reduce percentage of Medicaid fraud, but also will reduce cost and increase efficiency.

Steve Towns (<http://www.govtech.com/authors/98564054.html>) | Executive Editor

ADVERTISEMENT

LOAD MORE